"Earth Roll"

"A single surprising shudder passes through you and you realise you are standing on the back of something like a cosmic whale, one that is slowly rotating its great bulk on the surface of an unseen ocean." Brian Swimme 1996

On Wednesday the 21st of June at 7:30 a.m. we will be welcoming the sunrise (at 8:03am).
This invitation is extended to all our school community as we celebrate the day of the Winter Solstice and the return of the sun back to it's Earth home.

Time: To meet at the beach at 7:30 am.

Where: We will meet at the stretch of New Brighton Beach near the cenotaph car park and the pier.

We will drum up the sun followed by a spiral dance on the sand with the children.

This is a really lovely celebration and community get together and one the children all look forward to taking part in.

Back to school between 8:30 and 9:am Wrap up warm, bring a little food and a flask of hot beverage and we will see you there.
