Spiritual Roots of the Montessori Vision

Maria Montessori's vision for education is revealed through first hand accountings of her story from per-World War II through the present, as told by members of her inner circle. Unraveling the threads of our lineage and our history bring us to a deepened sense of purpose for our collective great work on behalf of the child.

In Montessori's oral tradition, Philip Snow Gang weaves his own personal story as a keeper of the vision together with gems and insights from his own experience outside the frame of traditional Montessori training. His stories illuminate the spiritual roots of our work, the essential qualities that move us in the direction of the Montessori vision for a new humanity.

We invite you to bring your voice to a dialogue about the essence.

Thank you, Team Nova
